Strippers and hypocrisy

Sunday, July 08, 2007

Some sleazy mob boss walks into the dressing room and starts smacking girls around and taking their money. A dirty looking pimp hands a pretty young girl a plate of cocaine. A frail little uppity white girl starts talkin trash to her neighbor about her brother-in-law's best friend's sister's cousin who dated a stripper in college. These are some of the few images of strippers that ignorant people really believe about strippers. And that's the dumbest part about it. Ignorant people believe ever bad, sleazy, tawdry, scandalous story that they have EVER heard about every stripper in creation. But I say that's what dumb-ass people get for believing everything that they are told.

Women and men but mostly stuck up bitches that think they are better than everybody else want to believe that the stripper girls are victims that some terrible horrible man forced them against their will to put on make up and dance around for money. Or that stripper girls are insatiable whores who are nothing but cocaine addicted junkies that do nothing but go around trying to fuck other women's husbands. But the dumb ass whores who believe that kind of shit are the same girls who get drunk and fuck whatever guy just so happens to be there then turn around the next morning and say, "OOh I was drunk, I didn't know what I was doing," or they get a little tipsy take off their clothes, or start kissing, or fondling some guy or girl then wake up the next day and again blame it on the booze. So who is REALLY playing the victim here?

There are the people who choose to do the quiet assault. They will simply whisper behind a strippers back in a quiet way at a party or a social function, "such n' such is a stripper"!!! They will examine her from top to bottom, pick her apart, talk about her clothes, her hair, her make up, and swear that everything about her is indicative of the unrealistic assumption that she's a whore. Now if it were a male stripper.....women would be touching him, hugging on him, flirting with him shamelessly, the men would give him hi-fives, and if he had a juicy story to tell about some chubby little suburban housewife that he nailed after stripping for her.....well he would then achieve legendary status.....now who's the whore???

Then there are those who enjoy taking the moral high ground and they say things like it aren't appropriate for women to show their bodies in such a way. Or it will give men the "wrong idea" or that it degrades women and it keeps women in the position of being the oppressed gender. But these are the same people who think that women would be better off or more morally responsible if they were working for minimum wage or collecting welfare. And along the same school of thought are the folks that sit around criticizing a young woman for being a well paid stripper because she needs the money for her kids. They'll trash a girl all over the place for making the best of what she has and these are the same people that know damn well that a family can't be supported on minimum wage.....I gotta ask.....who is really the oppressor in this scenario here??

I am pointing out ironies here as you can see. Now are there drug addicts in strip clubs.....damn right there are!! But there are also drug addicts everywhere but somehow strippers get the bad wrap for it. People out in the world would blame the black fucking plague on adult entertainment if they thought that they could get away with it.

I'm also thinking about the hypocrisy of the world too. People want to point their finger all the fucking time without taking a look at some of the bad things that they themselves have done. People in glass houses shouldn't throw strippers!!!

Douche Bag Traits

This is so good!! lmao!! A must read
Friday, January 26, 2007

Often times certain phrases are used disparagingly to describe a particular type of individual. One such phrase commonly used to describe a pretentious asshole or a person who's trying way too hard to be cool is "douche bag". Many of you may know a douche bag or two, or may in actuality be one yourself without realizing it. My intention with this article is to do two things:

- 1) Help you spot a douche bag so you can correct him on his douchey-osity
- 2) Help you correct douchey traits you may yourself possess

Hopefully you'll have a clear understanding of things a douche bag wears, says, does, etc. by the end of this article and be able to correct any douchey-ness in yourself and/or assist others in correcting their douche-baggy behaviour. In the future I'll go into specifics about the sub-categories of douche bags, but for now we'll focus on the age 18-34 douche bag.

Before we move on, it must be noted that douche-baggotry is a disease, much like obesity or necrophilia, however, to this day there is no known vaccine to cure it. There have been scientific studies conducted on douche bags in the last decade, and new evidence suggests that douche-baggotry is indeed a genetic disorder. To date, the only available remedy to this horrible affliction is to call out a douche bag on his behaviour. Only then can steps be taken to permanently decrease one's "douchey-osity".

The below douche bag traits are not listed in any particular order, they are all equally douchey:

- 1) Popped collar on a shirt. --nuff said
- 2) Any bracelet or necklace worn makes one a douche bag. The only acceptable jewelry for a man is a wrist watch.
- 3) BMW driver. All BMW drivers under the age of 50 are douche bags. There's nothing wrong with a luxury automobile, just BMWs. Typically a BMW driver will leave his keys sitting on top of the bar so as to "impress" chicks. Total dick move, douche bag. Thinketh the ladies, "Nice car, sorry 'bout your penis."
- 4) Spikey hair with too much product. Seriously, stop it.
- 5) Facial hair, especially a goatee, or other sort of meticulously groomed beard. If you're going to have a beard, just go all out like those dudes from ZZTop.
- 6) Cell phone worn on belt. Your pants have pockets, fucking use them, douche bag.

- 7) Hat backwards. This one is easily remedied: TURN YOUR FUCKING HAT AROUND, DOUCHE BAG. (also, hats worn with a tilt.
- 8) Dressy sandals. Not only are you a douche bag if you wear these, you're also a
- 15) Belts with flags, whales, or other logos is douchey. Your belt should be leather all the way around, douche bag.
- 16) Blue tooth or other hands free cellular device. Hey, douche bag, while you got a free hand reach over here and stroke my cock.
- 17) Layering two polo shirts. I can't emphasize enough how douchey this is.
- 18) Von Dutch t-shirts.
- 19) John Deere hats if you're not a farmer. Anyone following a trend set by Ashton Kutcher is a total fucking douche bag.
- 20) Anything Abercrombie.
- 21) If you listen to Train.
- 22) Excessive bending of the bill of your hat.
- 23) Madras shorts.
- 24) Sperry Topsider/docksiders...especially with no socks.
- 25) Flip-flops worn in the winter time.
- 26) T-shirts that say "Beer, it's not just for breakfast anymore" or similar t-shirts that attempt humour in vain.
- 27) Those fagotty-assed yellow "Live Strong" bracelets. Don't tell me it's for a good cause, you wear it because you're a douche bag who likes bracelets.
- 28) Use of the phrase "I was so wasted" or "We were so wasted".
- 29) Republicans
- 30) Democrats
- 31) Shorts with lobsters, whales, etc.
- 32) Jersey with the name of a pro athlete on the back.
- 33) Using the word "grande" or "venti" or other coffee-speak when ordering a cup of coffee. Just say small, medium, or large, a-hole.
- 34) Ordering anything other than coffee when you're at a coffee shop. This includes frappacinos, mochiattas, and any other douchey shit.
- 35) Continuing to wear your sunglasses on your face when you're indoors. Take 'em off, fucktard.

Sex. Are you a valley dweller? lol

Friday, June 09, 2006

In the sexual arena you can basically group almost all people into 3 categories.

Mountain Dwellers- Mountain Dwellers are the people who are really in touch with their sexuality. They aren't embarrassed about sex and they are not afraid of sex. They love it, they are super skilled at it. They take notes on the subject, they even look for new ways to do it, and look for new ways to improve their skill and technique. They enjoy giving much pleasure to their partner, and to themselves. They know what they want and they know what they like, and they take pride in doing it. They do it and they do it to the best of their ability at all times, no exception. These folks ask what you like and do what you like and they know what they like. These people have priorities but they really know that there's nothing better than a good fuck. And sex with these people is really really good. They walk away from the encounter with pride, knowing that they have done the job right!! These folks love sex and they want to do it as much as possible b/c they know how good it can really be.

In Between Dwellers-(also referred to as side of the mountain dwellers) These are the people that aren't sure, or may be just inexperienced or maybe they are just afraid. They usually are good in bed and can satisfy you and themselves. But that's all!! It's mostly just okay, there are few fireworks. They have the skills and the technique but they just don't use them to their full potential. These kind of people are satisfied with maybe one orgasm and they lack the enthusiasm of the mountain dwellers. Note; there is a danger in this category. The worst kind!! Because many, many side of the mountain dwellers really believe that they live on the mountain top but they don't. And these are the kind that are okay in bed but just need a little fine tuning but to hear them tell it they are the best lay ever.

Valley Dwellers- These people have usually not had much experience. And many times are in total denial about how bad they are in the sack. They don't care either!! They don't care if you get off and they don't care what you like. These are usually the people that have some sort of mental block when it comes to sex but they'll never admit it. They don't ask what you like b/c they don't have a clue as to what they like. It's usually one position, lights off, it's usually over in less than 10 mins. And they don't do things like spanking or oral sex b/c they have some kind of hang up about it or they are afraid to try that or anything new. And forget trying to get them to have sex in public!! They are in the valley and sadly they may stay there for the rest of their lives.

Now, none of my terms are absolute. People can fall into categories that I have not explained here. And it is possible for Valley Dwellers to move to the mountain top. With a little patience, guidance, and an open mind I think anyone could move to the mountain top. And unfortunately I must say most of the valley dwellers are women, but there are millions of men there too. And lets face it some people are just natural mountain top people, and some are born valley dwellers. But here's the secret that we Mountain people know; there's always room for improvement and there is no "set" way for sex to be performed. Everyone likes something different, and if you do it right you'll do all of those different things. But that's why grass grows in the valley b/c nothing ever happens there.

Rules for Dating me!!

Wednesday, June 07, 2006

Rules for dating me;

I am not going to meet you, or invite you to my house. If you want to get to know me you'll have to invite me on a real date.

I don't date guys who don't have jobs

I don't date guys who have been in prison

I don't date guys who already have girlfriends.

if you do date me make sure that you have shaved and are smellin good when you see me.

white roses

michelob light-make sure it's at least a 12 pack b/c if you only bring a six then you won't have anything to drink

i don't date guys who don't eat pussy. no exceptions

a first date with me consists of dinner a few drinks, talking and whatever happens after that depends on how much i like you

I smoke and if you don't like it bite my ass. I don't date guys who bitch about that.

If you don't value me or my opinion then go away from me

Don't call me everyday unless directed otherwise. I really don't like that. Besides if I want to talk I'll call you.

If you like submissive little weak women that will say how high when you say jump then I'm not the girl for you.

If we go out or talk on the phone SAY SOMETHING!! I don't like guys who sit there and can't make conversation.

I'm a woman I don't like sports, or cars, or hanging out with your friends unless they're cool. If you wanna go to a game cool. But don't expect me to sit and watch the game with you or discuss the game with you

I want to hang out with you not your friends. I got plenty of friends of my own.

If you have children that are demon from hell I don't want to date you..

If you need a place to live don't call me. I'm not your momma!!

Anymore questions just ask me.

Dating

Saturday, April 08, 2006

did you ever stop and ask yourself why am I dating this person? why do i like him/her?why am I married to, or living with this person? what source of satisfaction/misery does it bring me? or are u trying to decide if it is indeed satisfaction of misery? Maybe if we asked and answered ourselves these questions in the beginning it would be better off.

I'm still trying to answer all these questions myself. but here's what i know for sure; you should never date someone b/c you need a place to live, you should never date someone b/c you need money, you should never date someone when you can't let go of someone else, you should never date someone just b/c you don't want to be alone, you should never fuck someone just b/c you're mad at someone else. You should never date someone who has been in jail/prison.....never date someone with a drug problem, never date someone who is a compulsive liar (learned that one the hard way), never date someone who just wants you as arm candy, never date someone b/c "it seems like a good idea at the time," and never date someone who has not already cleaned up their mess from the last relationship they were in (most recent lesson learned) the moral of my story is.....make sure you're in it for the right reasons. and a quote "money is a sad reason for folks to be together or apart." And if the relationship is dead bury it b/c if you don't it will stink up the place.....now everyone please excuse me while i go find my shovel..... (i hope my hard lessons learned helps someone else).

by presidential order

Monday, December 26, 2005

as president i propose a radical new program. first of all did you know that it costs 55,000 dollars a year to keep someone incarcerated. that is bullshit. it only costs 17,000 a year to attend miami university.

so look it this is what we'll do.. some of the most hated people in our society are child molesters. if not the most hated. why keep them in prison, 90percent of the time they are not reformed. and a bunch of the time they get out and do it again.

so they have these big cement pillars outside like almost every grocery store. i propose that we chain them to the pillars so everyone coming and going from the store can kick the shit out of them as they come in and leave. or what's even better is you can't get a good run going and run them over with your cart, put cigarettes out on them, throw your gum on them, wipe your feet, or whatever you like. this is perfect because the general public will get to vent frustrations and let's face it they need the shit kicked out of them.
